The Department of Mathematics

2020–21–B term

Course Name System Programming Laboratory

Course Number 202.1.2071

Course web page
> https://www.math.bgu.ac.il//en/teaching/spring2021/courses/> system-programming-laboratory

Office Hours https://www.math.bgu.ac.il/en/teaching/hours

Abstract

Requirements and grading[1]

Course topics

The Lab will be based on a LINUX plaftorm, and use the C programming language. The emphasis is on low-level programming. Goals of this lab are to introduce issues in low level programming, as well as techniques on how to learn needed information on demand

---

[1]Information may change during the first two weeks of the term. Please consult the webpage for updates